

1on1 ACCOUNTABILITY

These questions are to be asked in a weekly accountability relationship. They are to stimulate the confession of sin to one another and start conversations that will both encourage and challenge one another. This relationship should be one of transparency, honesty, confidentiality, and grace.

- 1 Have you been a testimony this week to the greatness of Jesus Christ with both your words and your actions?
- 2 Did you allow anything (sin) to come between you and God?
 - a. Have you been exposed to sexually alluring material or allowed your mind to entertain inappropriate thoughts?
 - b. Have you lacked integrity in your financial dealings or coveted something that wasn't yours?
 - c. Have you given in to an addictive behavior this week? Explain.
- 3 What have you learned from your time with God in His Word this week?
- 4 How are your relationships with others? (spouse, family, friends, co-workers, etc.)
 - a. Have you been honoring, understanding, and generous in your important relationships?
 - b. Have you damaged another person by your words, either behind their back or face-to-face?
 - c. Have you continued to remain angry towards another?
- 5 Who have you prayed for this week?
- 6 When and where have you served this week?
- 7 Who have you witnessed to this week either through your words or your actions?
- 8 Have you been completely honest with me?

“Therefore, confess your sins to one another and pray for one another, that you may be healed.”

– James 5:16

Accountability relationships can help us to grow by giving us an opportunity to confess to each other and challenge one another. These relationships work when there is trust, openness, consistency, and love for one another. Choose to make this commitment to your brother/sister. These relationships were intended to multiply. Invite two others to join the relationship and then multiply into two groups.

Prayer

- 1 Pray for one another. Take time to share specific requests.
